ALZHEIMER’S AND RELATED DISORDERS
SOCIETY OF INDIA (ARDSI)

(A NATIONAL ORGANIZATION FOR THE PROMOTION OF CARE, SUPPORT AND RESEARCH OF DEMENTIA)

AFFILIATED TO ALZHEIMER’S DISEASE INTERNATIONAL, LONDON, UK

ARTICLES AND MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION & BYE LAWS

A SOCIETY REGISTERED
UNDER THE TRAVANCORE COCHIN LITERARY
SCIENTIFIC AND CHARITABLE SOCIETIES REGISTRATION ACT
XII OF 1955
Dementia is the cause of disability in 5% to 10% of the world’s population aged 60 years and above. It is estimated that there are approximately 3.7 million people with dementia in India and the number is rapidly increasing. In spite of the high prevalence, there is very low awareness about the disease among the public and the medical fraternity.

Dementia is a progressive disease of the brain that impairs memory and affects personality and intellect. The impairment leads to deterioration of social and occupational functioning. There are many types of dementia. Alzheimer’s disease is the most common form. Most of the dementias are irreversible. There is a need for early diagnosis, intervention and rehabilitation. Despite extensive research that is going on in different parts of the world, there is still no cure for most irreversible dementias like Alzheimer’s disease.

The ideal place where the people with dementia can be cared for is their own homes. Due to the nature of the disease, their family members have problems in coping with the various behavioral problems that emerge as the disease progresses. The family needs support, help, and guidance to improve the quality of care and also need legal advice. The Tropical Health Foundation of India, a registered non-profit voluntary health organization, held the National Seminar on dementia at the Renewal Center, Cochin on 16th and 17th November 1991. This seminar drew the attention of the public and the medical professionals and discussed the various aspects of dementia care and research.

The participants of the seminar unanimously resolved that a National Organization be formed consisting of members of families affected with dementia, doctors, nurses, social workers and all those interested in joining hands to combat this disease and help people with dementia and their families. Dr. K. Jacob Roy, the Organizing Secretary of the seminar and the Executive Director of Tropical Health Foundation of India, was entrusted with this task.
